

From PWCC President, Ed Lee:

A few things that may interest you while PWCC is on 'hiatus':

1. If you're a photographer stuck at home due to the coronavirus pandemic, Professional Photographers of America (PPA) has got your back. The trade association has made all of its 1,100+ online photography classes free for the next (two weeks) ONLY 1 week left! "Times are tough - we need to be at our best," writes the association, which was founded back in 1868. "More kindness. More patience. More giving. And we at PPA want to pitch in to make things a little easier. What better way to spend your time at home than preparing your business for when things kick back into high gear? "That's why PPA is opening ALL of our online education to ALL photographers and small business owners worldwide for the next two weeks."

<https://petapixel.com/2020/03/21/ppas-1100-online-photo-classes-are-currently-free/>

2. Adobe is offering 2 free months off their CC subscription plan. Check this article for details:

<https://petapixel.com/2020/03/18/adobe-is-giving-everyone-2-months-of-free-creative-cloud-heres-how-to-get-it/>

3. Deborah Gilbert, formerly of B&H's Event Space, offers a free, weekly e-newsletter about photography. To subscribe, just send a request to DevelopPhotoNewsletter@gmail.com

4. If you saw the movie 'Ex Machina,' you will be amazed by this photographer's work with Instagram links to behind-the-scene images as well.

<https://petapixel.com/2020/03/25/photos-of-the-robots-living-among-us/>

By now, you'll notice that I enjoy the petapixel.com website! You can subscribe to their email digest.

Be well!